It is the most complete game of football on any console. For the first time, FIFA includes REAL PEOPLE. Using the Vision Real Player Motion Technology, players maintain their identity in every game, and even exhibit the particular style of play that they demonstrated in the media, like the way that a superstar footballer runs with the ball or how the speed and power of a defender manifests itself in the air. For the first time, you can play a match of real-time, live football, using squad selections from over a thousand players from over 100 leagues, including all Champions League teams. The game also includes the fully licensed player likeness of so many real footballing superstars, including Cristiano Ronaldo, Ronaldo, Lionel Messi, and others. Matchday: Control the match from start to finish, analyzing the flow of the game to find a good plan of attack and defend, even if you're not selected to play.
